Unique DEET Free Insect Repellent Now Available in Family-Friendly Towelettes Rapid drying and odorless wipes from Coleman Repellents provide up to eight hours of protection

Jackson, Wis. – Let’s face it, applying an insect repellent to your forehead, neck, ears and other tough-to-spray areas can be challenging. And, it’s often even more difficult to adequately cover a child. Luckily, there’s a convenient new way to apply SkinSmart® Insect Repellent, which is available within the rapidly-expanding Coleman® Repellents line, because the popular DEET Free formula is now available in easy-to-use towelettes. The new Coleman SkinSmart Insect Repellent Towelettes from Wisconsin Pharmacal Company come in a re-sealable package containing 16 wipes. They will retail for $5.49 and be available in the Camping section of major national retailers beginning in the early spring of 2011. For additional details, including a specific list of retailers, please visit ColemanRepellents.com.

With the new towelettes, the family-friendly SkinSmart insect repellent can be applied quickly and evenly without mess. The exclusive DEET Free formula is rapid drying, odorless and provides up to eight hours of protection against mosquitoes, ticks, and other biting bugs. It is safe for the entire family and clinically proven to be just as effective as DEET-based repellents. As an added benefit for on-the-go consumers, the compact and soft-sided package can be easily tucked into a purse, diaper bag, backpack, or glove compartment, so they’re readily available when needed.

“Since we launched our SkinSmart DEET Free Insect Repellent in 2009, it has proven to be especially popular among families who are cautious about utilizing DEET on themselves or their children,” said Mike Kermendy, vice president of marketing for Wisconsin Pharmacal Company, the exclusive manufacturer and distributor of Coleman Repellents. “So, it was just a natural extension to start offering this product in a towelette. After all, parents and kids alike are already accustomed to using wipes and like them because they’re easy-to-pack and apply product evenly and effectively.”
